Hampshire County Council

Titchfield / Titchfield Common Division

Re-introducing your Conservative Party Candidate

Geoff Hockley

Dear Residents,

It's four years since I was first elected to Hampshire County Council and I am very grateful that so many of you placed your faith in me. Those years have gone quickly and I am delighted to have worked as your County Councillor and to have helped resolve many of the problems that were of concern to you. Typical of these was the destruction of Sylvan Glade, the ancient woodland and site of nature conservation, adjacent to the A27 at Segensworth. For over two years I fought to obtain justice for the residents of Titchfield Park Road after Sylvan Glade was raised to the ground. The Ombudsman later found in our favour and written apologies from Fareham Borough Council were forthcoming with a plan to purchase the land from the owner and turn it into a wetland nature reserve. This fight continues!

I also played a major part in ensuring that the proposal to obtain vast quantities of aggregate from the coastal areas of Chilling and Brownwich was defeated. After speaking to more than 800 residents at public meetings held at Brookfield School, I replied to 430 of their emails and later had meetings with Hampshire County Council's Environment Department, the Forestry Department and others, which led to the proposals being withdrawn. Additionally, I have been able to utilise an HCC budget and financially assist many deserving local clubs and organisations who needed a little help in order to make their services to residents more meaningful. The Conservatives are making it better, please support us

And what about the promises I made to residents in my election address of 2004?

In every respect my promises were kept. I have to the best of my ability served the residents of this division. I have always been available when help or advice was needed. I consistently acted and voted in the best interests of the people that I serve and my actions were always visible. I again promise you that if re-elected my work on your behalf, and for the community will not diminish!

With best wishes,

Geoff Hockley,
