Prosecutions follow zero tolerance enviro-crime enforcement

ZERO tolerance towards those who litter and allow dogs to foul Fareham's streets is paying off.

During 2008-09, Enforcement Team patrols issued 51 fixed penalty notices for littering, two of which ended in court after the culprits didn't pay up.

They probably wished they had as the court appearance cost them a lot more – a £50 fine, £70 costs and £15 for victim support.

In the same period, 92 cases of fly tipping were investigated, resulting in four successful prosecutions, punishments ranging from community service to fines and compensation.

Six more cases are currently being pursued.

The team also succeeded in prosecuting a youth responsible for graffiti in a churchyard.

Councillor Trevor Cartwright, chairman of Fareham Community Safety Partnership, said the team, introduced in 2004 to patrol the Borough to enforce legislation on a wide range of enviro-crimes, worked closely with community safety officers and police community support officers to provide an effective uniformed service.

Officers also deal with abandoned vehicles and unauthorised travellers' camps.

Planning dictators' days are numbered, pledges top Tory

FAR-REACHING legislation proposed by the next Conservative Government to put the 'local' aspect back into planning has stalled the huge 10,000 homes development in Fareham.

Labour dictated that under the South East Plan the Borough must earmark a Strategic Development Area (SDA) north of the M27 and build the houses by 2026.

But all this will be put on hold, thanks to a letter to councils from Conservative Shadow Minister for Communities and Local Government Caroline Spelman.

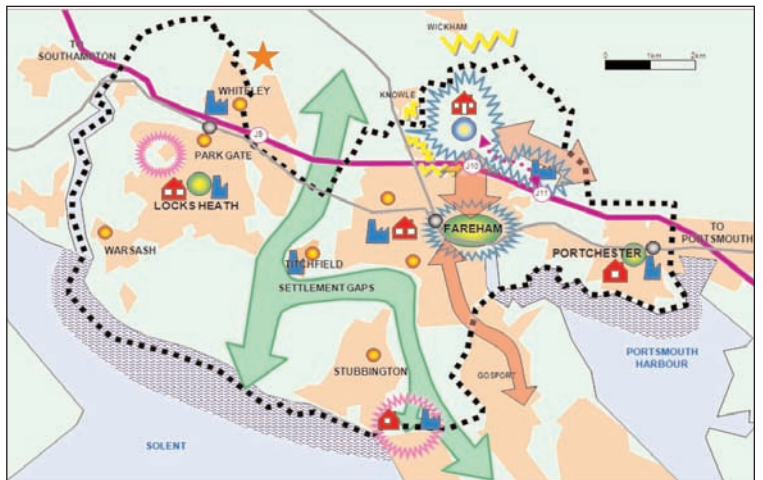

She threw a big spanner into Labour's works by promising the Tories would totally change the planning system.

She stated: "A Conservative Government will abolish the bureaucratic and undemocratic tier of regional planning. This will include the abolition of the regional spatial strategies and the regional planning bodies."

Planning dictates from Whitehall civil servants, with no local knowledge or inkling of public opinion, would be replaced to make the process far more 'bottom up'.

Even better, Caroline Spelman said councils would be able to undo some unwanted planning policies forced on them by Labour.

Councillor David Swanbrow, Executive Member for Planning and Transportation, said the core strategy, which is key to the Local Development Framework, was to be published in October, submitted to the Planning Inspectorate in January and subjected to a public hearing in May to decide whether it conformed to the SE Plan.

Shape of things to come? The key diagram for Fareham's local development framework, but changes could lie ahead after the election.

He said: "Fareham decided that if the development was to become a sustainable community that was pleasant to live in, the number of dwellings had to be much lower."

Under the system introduced by Labour, the inspector could find the plan unsound, forcing Fareham to waste most of the money spent producing its Core Strategy and start again; or worse, tell the Council it had to cram 10,000 flats and houses into the SDA, however undesirable.

"Currently, whatever an inspector decides becomes the plan and the local authority cannot change it.

"Labour used to say it would bring democracy nearer to local people. This is an example of what they meant – 'top down' planning with an iron fist."

Caroline Spelman's letter made councils who belong to the Partnership for Urban South Hampshire (PUSH) take notice.

"They may now be unlikely to commit to taking on additional housing to make up for a shortfall in Fareham's SDA, with the possibility that the problem will disappear after the election.

"There is a strong possibility many councils currently preparing plans will delay the process until after May when, if the Conservatives win power, local planning will truly become local."

Councillor Trevor Cartwright said: "For years people felt they had no real say in planning policy.

"If a Conservative Government is elected then that will change.

"They will be able to vote in local elections for councillors who will decide on local planning policies."

..and plans to revive a 18th Century tax will go out of the window

SCHEMING Labour plans to tax you for the view from your window won't last long under a Tory government.

Caroline Spelman, who recently exposed the tax, said her party would repeal any legislation.

Historically, it smacks of the 1766 House and Windows Duties Act, which taxed a house by the number of its windows and led to owners bricking up where possible.

But Labour would not stop there. If you have a patio, pond, pool, summer house, you're a target.

His duties at Winchester include chairman of the River Hamble Board and the Audit Committee and vice-chairman of the Policy and Resources Select Committee

Church heating grant

Grants have been made from the Neighbourhood Initiatives Fund for £4,000 for St Mary's Hook-with-Warsash Church towards installation of new heating, and £750 for Swanwick, Bursledon and Warsash Regatta.

Age Concern contract award sparks concern among aged

AGE CONCERN has been awarded the contract to run the Lockswood Day Care Centre.

But it sparked major concern among the aged, particularly over the new location for delivering the service.

Local councillors are now locked in a battle with Hampshire

County Council to get it sorted.

It has been operating for several years from its premises near Locks Heath Shopping Centre, providing for elderly frail residents and those with dementia in the Western Wards.

It also provides a valuable day's relief for carers.

When the service was put out to tender by the County Council, the contract was awarded, not to the Locks Heath Day Care Trust who own the Centre, but to Age Concern.

The changeover will take place on January 1, 2010.

Elderly residents and their carers are upset about the changes, particularly where the Age Concern service will be provided from.

According to Age Concern, it will be using the Kershaw Day Centre in North Fareham – nearly 5 miles from the existing centre.

County Councillors Keith Evans and Seán Woodward held meetings with the Locks Heath Day Care Trust and the County Council to try to continue the service from the Concern: Elderly users of the Lockswood Centre are worried by Age Concern's takeover.

Lockswood Centre.

But a solution to the problem has not yet been found.

In a joint statement, Councillors Evans and Woodward said: "It would be awful for our elderly residents to have to travel for over an hour in minibuses while people are picked up one-by-one from all over the Western Wards, then transported to a location in North Fareham when they have been receiving an excellent and convenient day care service within their own community.

"This is totally unacceptable and we will continue to press the County Council to find a local solution to this issue before the end of the year."

From January 1, 2010, when the County's new 'Personalisation' system starts, recipients of adult social care can opt to receive the money and procure their own services.

Existing users of the service at Locks Heath may decide that, rather than travel to North Fareham, they will take the money and use it to procure a service at Lockswood Day Care Centre.

Readers' indigestion? This could be your remedy...

FED UP with tatty old magazines in your doctors' surgery?

If you're registered at Whiteley and Locks Heath surgeries you might be able to get them to provide more interesting and up-to-date reading.

A new patients' participation group has been set up there and is seeking members.

"I'm not here to see the doctor, just to read the magazines."

It's a chance to learn more about the practice and perhaps help to manage on-going changes to the NHS.

Your commitment would be to attend meetings perhaps every two or three months for an hour or two.

If you have an opinion, whether it is the choice of magazines, the waiting rooms, timings of surgeries and availability of appointments or an interest in local hospital services and would like to join the group, contact Wendy Allcock or Cynthia Jones on 01489 881982.

Councillor's 'Use it or lose it' message to save bus lifeline

A SHOCK decision to axe a bus service providing a lifeline for the elderly in the Western Wards has been partly rescinded after fierce protests.

First Hampshire withdrew Service 78 without warning at the end of August and when he found out, Councillor Seán Woodward tackled managing director Richard Soper.

He said: "The fact that the service ceased and money is not being saved beggars belief.

"I asked First to delay until Christmas as figures showing very low passenger numbers appeared dubious.

"The company was unaware of the level of public concern, especially from elderly, disabled residents for whom the 78 service is a lifeline to shops, friends and family."

Mr Soper said the soonest the service could lawfully be reinstated was November.

Councillor Woodward said this was unacceptable and a mechanism should be found to reintroduce even a lower frequency service or re-route an existing one to cover some of the affected roads.

As a result, a new 27/27A service was introduced in September with five return journeys daily between Sarisbury, Park Gate Coldeast, Locks Heath Centre, Dimmicks Corner, Highlands Shops and Fareham Bus Station.

Councillor Woodward added: "First Hampshire will be looking to see this service break even by the end of the year, so now it really is a matter of use it or lose it."

Advantage Warsash tennis club

WARSASH Tennis Club's new club house was opened by the Lawn Tennis Association's Roger Draper

It followed many years of fund raising with donations from the LTA, Fareham Council, the Foundation for Sport and the Arts, SITA Trust, Hampshire Playing Fields Association, Veolia Environmental Trust and Awards for All.

A fourth tennis court with floodlighting has also been added.

The new club house is equipped with wash-room and changing facilities plus kitchen area.

There were stalls, refreshments and a BBQ in the afternoon to round off the event.

Grants available
VOLUNTARY and community groups will continue to benefit from a grants system set up by the County Council.

'Unfair' Hamble Harbour dues scrutiny by select committee

A SELECT committee has been set up by the County Council to examine issues affecting the River Hamble.

Warsash Councillor Trevor Cartwright, a member of the River Hamble Management Committee, said it would make an independent review under the 1964 Harbours Act of the objection to harbour dues made by Warsash Sailing Club.

This way it avoided the cost of a public inquiry.

It will be chaired by County Councillor Seán Woodward, with Michael Sterne of Warsash Sailing Club as vice-chairman.

Councillor Cartwright, one of 9 members of the committee, said anyone with an interest in the conduct of the River Hamble would be invited to make representations or send written evidence.

The committee will hear the sailing club's case and the responses by the Harbour Authority, and consider the dues charged by the Authority to various categories of river user.

Its other remits are to discuss the Harbour Authority's activities to identify any unrelated to its powers and whether any additional work carried out should be met by harbour dues payers

It will also look at aspects of the costs and charging regime that may assist in meeting the vision of the Hampshire County Council Department of Culture, Communities & Rural Affairs

Activities of the Harbour Authority office (pictured) will be reviewed in the context of efficiency and economy.

The Committee will make recommendations to the River Hamble Harbour Management Committee which, in turn will make recommendations to the River Hamble Harbour Board and the County Council.

It will aim to complete its work during 2009.

Council's list of top priorities

A PROGRESS report lists 12 high priorities among 44 actions within the Council's Corporate Improvement Plan.

These include a review of community centres, youth centres and sports pavilions to rationalise provision and modernise by 2012, which is on target.

Councillor Trevor Cartwright, Executive Member for Service Performance and Improvement, said current plans to complete a swimming pool by 2011 on Council land adjoining Locks Heath Shopping Centre might have to be abandoned.

He said other sites might have to be considered because the centre's owners would not complete a legal agreement.

Councillor Cartwright said the target to set Fareham's portion of the council tax below inflation had been met for the sixth year running and he forecast this would be maintained.

Our man in Westminster

By Mark Hoban
MP for Fareham

You have to make difficult decisions in your life, which require a sacrifice today to achieve a better tomorrow. Do you go to college to get more qualifications or straight into work; or sacrifice nights out to repay debt or save for a deposit?

We announced tough decisions on spending at our Party Conference this month to secure our future. Soaring borrowing by Gordon Brown means we spend more on interest on Government debt than on schools or our armed forces. If this continues, we will put the economy at risk, so we must make difficult decisions today for a better tomorrow.

Everyone must do something because we are in this together; freezing public sector pay helps protect up to 100,000 frontline jobs; and deferring the retirement age secures the restoration of the link between state pensions and earnings.

Government debt arises from spending and borrowing too much. Government does too much. Take the case of the two police officers wanting to share child-care, where rules prevented them doing the right thing for their children.

David Cameron spoke very powerfully about enabling us to achieve our full potential. He wants government to support those who need it, but to get the state to step back so that families and communities can do the right thing.

It means scrapping targets that hold back doctors from giving us the care that we need, but making sure that those on low incomes who want to work aren't losing 96p of every £1 they earn to the tax man. If we get through the difficult times ahead, we have a bright future. Only leadership and determination will get us on the right track.

Fareham's flower power brings national competition invitation

NOW Fareham is up with the big boys. Next year, it's Britain in Bloom for the six times top award winners.

The Borough's fantastic winning streak in the South and South East In Bloom competition resulted in an invitation to take part in the prestigious national contest in 2010.

"Naturally I said yes," said delighted Council Leader Councillor Seán Woodward. Britain in Bloom, which is run by the Royal Horticultural Society, is one of the largest events of its kind in Europe.

Back to this year's competition. As overall winners for the sixth year running of the Large Town/Small City category, it was the first of four gold medals on the day. And more successes followed.

The sensory garden won gold in the Best Small Park category, Holly Hill Woodland Park collected a gold as winner of the Best Countryside Park and the pupils at Northern Junior School, Portchester again took gold as winners of the Schools' Category.

And just to gild the lily, Fareham's Tourist Information Centre won a new award presented by Tourism Southeast to reflect how well parks and visitor activities are promoted.

Congratulating the winners at the awards ceremony in Brighton, Councillor Mrs Connie Hockley hailed it as a spectacular success, much of it due to the tireless work of volunteers and parks staff.

She said only 15% of marks went to floral displays, the rest came from community involvement and the Council's environmental work.

She praised Mrs Heather Othen for winning an outstanding achievement award. "Like all our volunteers, Heather works with dedication and passion to help ensure Fareham's entry into In Bloom scores top marks."

Well done: Philomena Powell, from Warsash, won three awards, including two golds.

This was echoed at Ferneham Hall on September 8 where sponsors, competitors and residents met to celebrate the end of the 14th Fareham In Bloom year, which again showed a record number of entries.

Connie Hockley said it was the largest community activity in the voluntary sector and the gardening competition was the culmination of months of hard work by everybody involved.

"If you are a keen gardener and are not involved in our 'In Bloom' competition, then think about entering in 2010."

Thanking those who ensured In Bloom worked so well, she added: "It is hard work, but it is fun too, so if you feel like becoming a volunteer, please get in touch with me."

Chance for deaf to try new technology

A DEAFPLUS bus will be trialled in Fareham town centre from November 30.

It comes at the request of Council Leader Seán Woodward and will contain equipment demonstrating aids for deaf people.

The charity DeafPlus has a contract with the County Council for its early intervention service, which provides 120 half-hour sessions a year across Hampshire.

The free service gives the deaf the chance to try the latest technology.

A matter of degree

THE dangerously overloaded bin shown here would not be collected.

But Councillor Keith Evans firmly denied that the Council operated a closed-lid policy.

"We apply common sense, so in practice a bin will be collected even with the lid open to 40 degrees," he said.

Work on Fareham's community hospital progressing fast

FAREHAM'S community hospital at Coldeast is taking shape fast.

Exterior masonry work, the fascia and most of the cladding are finished and windows installed.

Councillor Trevor Cartwright said the first fix of mechanical and electrical work was well under way and installation of soft flooring and internal decorating had begun.

"Exterior landscaping and formation of the bell-mouth to Brook Lane should start soon," he said.
